Upper Branch Prepares For Debate On Bill Passed
By The House

BULLETIN
WASHINGTON, Oct. 22—As the Senate began debate today on the 18-19 draft bill, Secretary of the Navy Frank Knox joined the War Department in condemning the Lee "dry" amendment, and Senate leaders indicated that all compromise proposals had failed.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 22—Senate foes of the Lee "dry" amendment to the 18-19 draft measure today were reported planning to offer the anti-lynching bill as a "rider" to the legislation if the dry forces keep up their fight to put Army camps and surrounding territory under prohibition.

"I understand that the anti-lynching bill will be offered if the Lee amendment is persisted in," said Sen. Overton (D) La. "If a fight is started over that, the bill will be tied up until after Christmas."

As the Senate readied itself for debate on the House-approved measure administration forces were confident of defeating the Lee amendment.

Sen. Lee (D) Okla., author of the amendment, was said to be considering a compromise plan under which he would withdraw the proposal in exchange for a Senate agreement for early consideration of the Sheppard bill, which also prohibits sale of liquor in Army camps and adjacent territory.

Dry Effort Feared
Senate foes of prohibition, who regard the Lee amendment as an entering wedge in a fight for wartime prohibition, were reported to be ready to vigorously oppose the compromise.

Secretary of War Stimson strongly opposed the Lee amendment in a letter to Sen. Reynolds (D) N. C., in which he declared that it would impair the Army's plan of promoting temperance. The Army permits sale of 3.2 beer in camps at certain hours.

SECOND GIRL ACCUSES FILM STAR ERROL FLYNN

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 22—Film star Errol Flynn was to surrender today on a new complaint issued by the District Attorney's office charging him with criminally assaulting a 15-year-old girl—the second morals offense charge filed against the actor in less than a week.

The new complaint was signed by Peggy Larue Satterlee, now 17, who asserted that the handsome screen hero twice attacked her during a weekend cruise on his yacht in August, 1941.

'Shortage' of Coffee Laid To Hoarders

Bean Plentiful — Rationing
Only Likely In Event Of Panic Buying

NEW YORK, Oct. 22—Coffee-drinking America today was assured that there is no shortage of the popular bean and there is not likely to be any rationing unless made necessary by "panic buying" of hoarders.

The unavailability of coffee in retail stores while the nation's warehouses are bulging with the unground and unroasted product—a veritable "want in the midst of plenty"—was explained by George C. Thierbach, president of the National Coffee Association, as due to three factors—delivery, packaging and hoarding.

Distributors and processors, Thierbach said, are having difficulty in switching from the familiar "vacuum-packed" can method of packaging to the new glass containers and this has been responsible to some extent for the delay in filling orders from dealers. Further complicating the situation are the delivery limitations imposed because of rubber and gasoline shortages.

But even this would not have caused the shortage now reported in retail stores, which Thierbach declared, is traceable directly to hoarding by coffee-lovers.

"Panic buying of coffee at the present time," the official said, "is not only unwarranted, but foolish. Coffee is a highly perishable product and people buying large amounts will find that by the time they come to use the coffee, it will have lost its flavor and aroma, while fresh coffee will at the same time be freely available in retail stores."

If rationing of coffee is to be ordered, Thierbach added, it will be only to control hoarding, and "the rationing procedure will be generous."

PIERRE LAVAL OFF FOR BERLIN TO GET ORDERS

LONDON, Oct. 22—An official of Gen. Charles De Gaulle's fighting French organization was quoted today as saying that it had been learned Pierre Laval, chief of the Vichy government, is now in Paris en route to Berlin to confer with Nazi leaders about the unfulfilled demand that 150,000 French workers be sent to Germany.

The fighting French spokesman, according to the Daily Sketch, said Laval would go to Berlin within 48 hours.

He said that it was expected Germany would occupy the whole French industrial area between Lyon and Limoges southward at least to St. Etienne soon.

"If French workers do not come to Germany, Germany will come to them," he added.

Dispatches from Bern, Switzerland, said meanwhile that Laval had been given until November 30 instead of November 1 to draft the quota of workers demanded by the Reich.

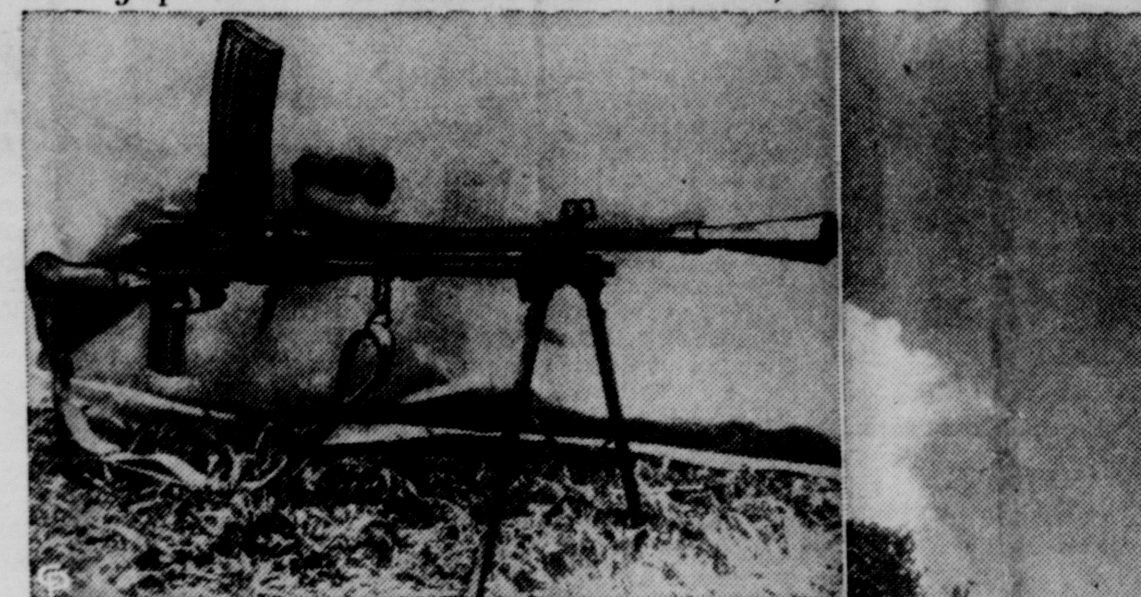

JOINS ARMY FOR ACTION; FINDS IT IN 10 MINUTES

HAMILTON FIELD, Cal., Oct. 22—Lieut. John T. Treese, 25, of Hollidaysburg, Pa., who joined the army for "action," admitted today he got it before he expected—in 10 minutes.

During a routine training flight, his plane went suddenly into a spin. Things looked bad for a few fleeting seconds, but Treese bailed out. As he dropped in his parachute, he narrowly missed hitting the San Mateo bridge over San Francisco Bay.

Then he splashed into the water, from which coast guardsmen rescued him several minutes later. Treese was uninjured in his first "action."

Premium Seeking Stock Moves In for Exhibition

Premium-seeking livestock started to move into Circleville early Thursday afternoon to be housed in East Franklin street garage buildings for the big 4-H club and vocational agriculture show which gets under way Thursday evening with a parade, band concert and address at the courthouse.

So far as youthful Pickaway county exhibitors are concerned the event starts at 6:30 p. m. Thursday when all 4-H club members are guests at a banquet to be served in Presbyterian church dining hall.

At 8 o'clock the parade moves on Pickaway street to Main, west on Main to Court, south on Court to Franklin and back to the show area. The short course is being planned because of dangers involved in parading fat cattle. Great loss would be suffered by boy and girl club members if their favorite animals should fall or otherwise suffer injury.

CONFESION OF NAZI SPY MAY DOOM PARENTS

WASHINGTON, Oct. 22—The confession of a dead Nazi saboteur, young Herbert Haupt, will be read in a Chicago courtroom for the first time next week when the government begins its attempt to send his mother and father to the electric chair or gallows, it was learned today.

The mother, neurotic Erna Froehling Haupt, 43, and the father, Hans Max Haupt, 48, who once attempted to commit suicide by biting his wrist, will be placed on trial for alleged treason October 26 because they sheltered their son after he was landed on American shores by a German submarine last June.

Evidence sent to Chicago by the criminal division of the Department of Justice in preparation for the trial included the confession of young Haupt, it was reported. Other evidence gave Chicago district attorneys complete details on the activities of young Haupt and his parents and their records.

Young Haupt, then only 21, was one of six of the eight Nazi spies electrocuted in Washington early in August for taking part in a daring German sabotage plot.

GRAND ADMIRAL OF NAZI FLEET MAY QUIT POST

LONDON, Oct. 22—Grand Admiral Eric Raeder, commander-in-chief of the German fleet, is expected to resign his post soon, a dispatch to the Daily Sketch said today.

Neutral correspondents in Berlin were said to believe that Raeder will step out shortly because of recent notices of instruction from the German propaganda ministry.

The propaganda office was said to have sent notes to all German newspapers not to refer to the state of Raeder's health and a neutral correspondent who attempted to cable the story to his paper was expelled.

It is known, the Daily Sketch added, that similar notices about other Nazi chieftains which have been sent to German editors always have been followed by the dismissal or retirement of the chief concerned.

HOLIDAY FURLONGHS OUT, WAR CHIEF STIMSON SAYS

WASHINGTON, Oct. 22—Secretary of War Henry L. Stimson today blasted hopes of men in training in the armed forces for Thanksgiving and Christmas furloughs.

FURY OF BATTLE EMPHASIZED BY DESTROYER LOSS

Japs Use New Aerial Decoy

ENEMY DRIVE STALLED

Success Of American Aerial

Nip Plane Losses

WASHINGTON, Oct. 22—Loss of two more U. S. destroyers and damage to two Japanese warships today emphasized the mounting fury of the Solomons' battle as the enemy disclosed new aerial "decoy" tactics apparently designed to lure protecting American planes from vital Guadalcanal airfield.

Employment of new aerial strategy was revealed in the navy's latest communique which stated that 30 "zero" fighters preceded by one hour a new bombing raid on the U. S. airfield, but the ruse failed and nine more Jap planes were destroyed.

The same communique stated that the U. S. destroyers Meredith and O'Brien were lost as the result of enemy action in the Solomons recently and that American planes damaged a Jap destroyer and cruiser in action on October 19-20.

"The report of casualties has not yet been received, but it is believed that all personnel of the O'Brien and many of the personnel of the Meredith were rescued," the navy said.

Japanese Stalled

Meanwhile, the navy reported that U. S. planes have continued to stall the 11-day old Japanese offensive to recapture Guadalcanal.

"During the late morning (October 20) approximately 30 'zero' fighters flew over the airfield," the communique said. "They were (Continued on Page Two)"

THOUSANDS FAIL TO CHECK WOODS FIRE ON COAST

SANTA MONICA, Cal., Oct. 22—Families in residential sections in the Santa Monica mountains were evacuated from their homes today as one of southern California's worst forest fires resisted efforts of thousands of fire fighters to check its destructive course.

A number of homes, several being luxurious residences of film celebrities, already have been destroyed by the blaze. Hundreds of other residences and estates were imperiled by the wind-swept flames.

Officials directing the work of the ever-increasing crews of fire fighters reported that some progress had been noted in controlling the flames, but that flying embers have started additional fires in isolated areas.

Refugee camps for families evacuated from danger zones were swiftly set up in relatively safe areas. Emergency Red Cross stations operated on a 24-hour basis and many fire fighters were treated for burns and other injuries.

BRITISH LADS OF 18 NOW TO PLAY WAR ROLES

LONDON, Oct. 22—King George today signed a proclamation making boys of 18 liable for conscription.

He acted during a meeting of the Privy Council in Buckingham palace attended by Jan Christian Smuts, Prime Minister of South Africa, and Ernest Bevin, British Minister of Labor and National Defense.

Later Bevin told commons that registration would start November 7 for those reaching the age of 18 between July 1 and September 30th, last.

Action Now Ordered On Manpower

Central Control Of Labor
As Well As Army, Navy
Looms At Capital

WASHINGTON, Oct. 22—Central manpower control under a new universal service act applying to labor as well as to the Army and Navy loomed on the congressional horizon today.

Aroused by widespread complaint from all parts of the country over functioning of the present draft law, the Senate military affairs committee announced that it wants action and wants it now.

First step was a demand by Sens. Downey (D) Calif., and Austin (R) Vt., that Paul McNutt's War Manpower commission immediately give the committee full statistics and factual matter in its possession concerning manpower resources.

A similar demand is slated to be made tomorrow on Donald Nelson, head of the WPB, when he will appear before the committee, if debate on the 18-19 year old draft bill is finished today. If the committee is unable to meet then, Nelson's appearance will go over until next Monday.

The demands for action were voiced after McNutt, appearing before the committee, opposed any congressional action until a bill his agency is drawing up is submitted.

COUNTY DRAFT GROUP DELAYED IN EXAMINATION

Held overnight Wednesday at Fort Hayes, Columbus, when the Army medical board stationed in Columbus was not prepared to conduct physical examinations, a large contingent of Pickaway county draftees was to undergo final tests and be inducted Thursday.

The group, numbering more than 80 men, left Circleville Wednesday at 9 a. m. on buses, but none of the group returned Wednesday night for 14-day furloughs or after being rejected. Telephone calls to anxious relatives disclosed that the entire group would be housed at Fort Hayes overnight and given final physicals Thursday.

Another contingent, comprising the remainder of men to leave Pickaway county in the October call, is scheduled to leave Friday.

Several unusual incidents took place because of the delay in examinations for the Wednesday group. Mrs. William Niles Sr. became janitor of High street school at least for one day when her son, William Jr., did not return home Wednesday evening.

Mrs. Niles fired furnaces at the school. Busse Hedges of Walnut township, one of the outstanding 4-H club members of the county, was sent up Wednesday so that he could return in time to show his stock at the 4-H club-vocational agriculture exposition. The day's delay means that he will not be able to have his stock in Circleville in time for the parade Thursday evening. However, barring anything else unforeseen his stock will be housed in the Kreisel building, East Franklin street, in time for judging Friday.

Draft board has not received any word from the Army medical board, but its October call is specific, part of the group being ordered to report Wednesday and the remainder Friday.

KAI-SHEK SAYS NIPPON'S POWER HAS PASSED PEAK

CHUNGKING, Oct. 22—Japan's offensive power has passed its peak and utter defeat of the Japs is inevitable, Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek declared today at the opening of the third session of the People's Political Council.

The Chinese leader expressed confidence that the tide of war was beginning to turn against the Japanese.

ELEMENTS HELP IN RED DEFENSE OF STALINGRAD

Axis Positions In Egypt,

That Is Statement Made By
Marines On Furloughs
Following Action

BULLETIN
MOSCOW, Oct. 22—Russian pressure increased today north and northwest of Stalingrad at the Don river elbow, forcing the Germans to regroup their forces and await reinforcements. They also were at a standstill in the southern outskirts of the city.

By International News Service
Cold, driving rains swept the Volga-Caucasus front today to give valuable aid to the hard-pressed Soviet forces. With the German transport system hampered by mud and slush, and the Luftwaffe grounded, Russian reserves were ferried across the Volga and the reinforced defenders of Stalingrad threw the enemy from several buildings in the factory district.

Elsewhere throughout the battle areas spread across the world the United Nations and the axis fought bitter air battles.

In the Solomon American airmen shot down nine more Japanese planes in the Guadalcanal area, raising to 95 the total of enemy aircraft destroyed in the last ten days.

Allied fighters and bombers have carried out heavy raids in axis positions in Egypt and Libya, a British communique disclosed. Tobruk, Solum and Fort Capuzzo in Libya were bombed and an axis transport was hit off the coast of Egypt while another formation strafed enemy transports on the Tobruk-Bardia coastal highway.

Rome made the preposterous claim that 55 allied planes were shot down in a gigantic air battle over El Alamein on Tuesday. The communique said at least 200 aircraft were engaged on each side.

The Luftwaffe was over England again early today in severe attacks on an East Anglia district and points in southeast England. Nine were killed in East Anglia when a single raider hit a municipal housing site. Some of (Continued on Page Two)

100 POUND WIFE RESENTS BEING MUSCLE BUILDER

CHICAGO, Oct. 22—Mrs. Dorothy C. Ryan, who scales at a mere 100 pounds, didn't relish it at all to have to take the place of the customary training camp equipment. That was why she had a divorce today from her husband, "Buddy" Ryan, a professional boxer.

Mrs. Ryan told Superior Judge Joseph Sabath that her husband laid her over his knees and beat her with a pool cue.

That, he explained patiently, was good for the muscles in the back of his arms, she testified.

On another occasion, she declared, he bounced her back and forth against a wall.

This, he said, was much better exercise than punching a bag, according to her story.

Ryan weighs 168 pounds.

FRENCH SWITCH FEARS FROM DAKAR TO LIBYA

LONDON, Oct. 22—A Madrid dispatch to the Daily Mail said today that Vichy Frenchmen, apparently no longer fearing that an attack against the port of Dakar in West Africa is imminent, believe the United Nations may be preparing a drive on axis forces in Libya and Egypt from French Equatorial Africa.

The theory put forth by Vichy, it was said, is that an assault against German General Field Marshal Erwin Rommel will be made from the Chad region of French Equatorial Africa which is controlled by Gen. Charles de Gaulle's fighting French.

Flash—Prohibitionists seek to bar liquor sales near Army camps!

Flash—Didn't we see this picture before?

Flash—Yes—Al Capone gave it four stars!

Well . . . When they got through dumping the pieces of the 18th amendment in "Pussy-Foot" Johnson's hat, they said it never would happen again.

No sir . . . No more "victims," no more bathtub gin, no more rum mobsters, no more greased palms, no more blood letting.

And here it is again, getting ready to begin all over.

First, an innocent little rider on the Senate bill to draft the 18-19 year olds. Just a little rider, which would prohibit sale of liquor or beer near Army camps or naval bases.

That's the first step?

Get that one by and the rest will come easier.

Thought for the Day: Hitler is a prohibitionist. Is that good?

The group, numbering more than 80 men, left Circleville Wednesday at 9 a. m. on buses, but none of the group returned Wednesday night for 14-day furloughs or after being rejected. Telephone calls to anxious relatives disclosed that the entire group would be housed at Fort Hayes overnight and given final physicals Thursday.

Another contingent, comprising the remainder of men to leave Pickaway county in the October call, is scheduled to leave Friday.

Several unusual incidents took place because of the delay in examinations for the Wednesday group. Mrs. William Niles Sr. became janitor of High street school at least for one day when her son, William Jr., did not return home Wednesday evening.

Mrs. Niles fired furnaces at the school. Busse Hedges of Walnut township, one of the outstanding 4-H club members of the county, was sent up Wednesday so that he could return in time to show his stock at the 4-H club-vocational agriculture exposition. The day's delay means that he will not be able to have his stock in Circleville in time for the parade Thursday evening. However, barring anything else unforeseen his stock will be housed in the Kreisel building, East Franklin street, in time for judging Friday.

Draft board has not received any word from the Army medical board, but its October call is specific, part of the group being ordered to report Wednesday and the remainder Friday.

KAI-SHEK SAYS NIPPON'S POWER HAS PASSED PEAK

CHUNGKING, Oct. 22—Japan's offensive power has passed its peak and utter defeat of the Japs is inevitable, Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek declared today at the opening of the third session of the People's Political Council.

The Chinese leader expressed confidence that the tide of war was beginning to turn against the Japanese.

"SOLOMONS TO BE HELD"

That Is Statement Made By Marines On Furloughs Following Action

BULLETIN

MOSCOW, Oct. 22—Russian pressure increased today north and northwest of Stalingrad at the Don river elbow, forcing the Germans to regroup their forces and await reinforcements. They also were at a standstill in the southern outskirts of the city.

By International News Service
Cold, driving rains swept the Volga-Caucasus front today to give valuable aid to the hard-pressed Soviet forces. With the German transport system hampered by mud and slush, and the Luftwaffe grounded, Russian reserves were ferried across the Volga and the reinforced defenders of Stalingrad threw the enemy from several buildings in the factory district.

Elsewhere throughout the world the United Nations and the axis fought bitter air battles.

In the Solomons American aviators shot down nine more Japanese planes in the Guadalcanal area, raising to 95 the total of enemy aircraft destroyed in the last ten days.

Allied fighters and bombers have carried out heavy raids in axis positions in Egypt and Libya, a British communique disclosed. Tobruk, Sollum and Fort Capuzzo in Libya were bombed and an axis transport was hit off the coast of Egypt while another formation strafed enemy transports on the Tobruk-Bardia coastal highway.

Rome made the preposterous claim that 55 allied planes were shot down in a gigantic air battle over El Alamein on Tuesday. The communique said at least 200 aircraft were engaged on each side.

The Luftwaffe was over England again early today in severe attacks on an East Anglia district and points in southeast England. Nine were killed in East Anglia when a single raider hit a municipal housing site. Some of (Continued on Page Two)

100 POUND WIFE RESENTS BEING MUSCLE BUILDER

CHICAGO, Oct. 22—Mrs. Dorothy C. Ryan, who scales at a mere 100 pounds, didn't relish it at all to have to take the place of the customary training camp equipment. That was why she had a divorce today from her husband, "Buddy" Ryan, a professional boxer.

Mrs. Ryan told Superior Judge Joseph Sabath that her husband laid her over his knees and beat her with a pool cue.

That, he explained patiently, was good for the muscles in the back of his arms, she testified.

On another occasion, she declared, he bounced her back and forth against a wall.

This, he said, was much better exercise than punching a bag, according to her story.

Ryan weighs 168 pounds.

FRENCH SWITCH FEARS FROM DAKAR TO LIBYA

LONDON, Oct. 22—A Madrid dispatch to the Daily Mail said today that Vichy Frenchmen, apparently no longer fearing that an attack against the port of Dakar in West Africa is imminent, believe the United Nations may be preparing a drive on axis forces in Libya and Egypt from French Equatorial Africa.

The Oslo radio quoted Spanish reports that two unidentified bombers had attacked British positions at Gibraltar, but there was no confirmation in London.

Gen. Douglas MacArthur's heavy bombers continued raids on the Japanese bases flanking New Guinea. Attacks were made on Rabaul and Gasmata on New Britain island, and on Timor.

The Navy department announced that two United States destroyers have been sunk by enemy action in the Solomons west of Guadalcanal. There was no mention of ground action on Guadalcanal, location of the airfield that is the objective of the Japanese offensive.

U. S. Marine pilots arriving in Pearl Harbor on the way to furlochs in the United States said American forces "will hold Guadalcanal." One of the trio was in the Solomons just a week ago—after the enemy assault was launched.

Red Lines Intact
All Russian lines in the Stalingrad-Caucasus area held firm and at some points the Soviet forces improved their positions and drove the enemy from strategic heights.

The Soviet Black Sea fleet has sunk eight axis vessels in the last 24 hours, a communiqué announced. The destroyed vessels were a Romanian destroyer, four transports and three auxiliary vessels.

Axis nervousness over Dakar was reflected in the Vichy announcement that Admiral Darlan had arrived at the West African port on "an inspection trip." Strong French fleet units have recently been massed at Dakar.

An axis diplomatic defeat in Chile was seen in the appointment of the liberal Democrat German Riesco as foreign minister to succeed the axis-inclined Ernest Barros Jarpa who favored maintaining diplomatic relations with the totalitarian nations.

A flock of rumors added to the confusion of the war of nerves. Stockholm reports said British paratroopers had landed in Norway on demolition missions. Madrid reported that allied troops, largely American, well equipped and with heavy air units, were massing in French equatorial Africa for a projected drive against the axis forces in Libya and Egypt.

ELEMENTS HELP IN RED DEFENSE OF STALINGRAD

Axis Positions In Egypt, Libya Hit By Bombers; Luftwaffe Also Busy

The Oslo radio quoted Spanish reports that two unidentified bombers had attacked British positions at Gibraltar, but there was no confirmation in London.

Gen. Douglas MacArthur's heavy bombers continued raids on the Japanese bases flanking New Guinea. Attacks were made on Rabaul and Gasmata on New Britain island, and on Timor.

The Navy department announced that two United States destroyers have been sunk by enemy action in the Solomons. One was off Guadalcanal, the other off the island of the Japanese offensive.

U. S. Marine pilots arriving in Pearl Harbor on the way to furlochs in the United States said American forces "will hold Guadalcanal." One of the troops in the Solomons just a week ago—after the enemy assault was launched.

Action Now Ordered On Manpower

McNutt told the committee that even the WMC measure should not be passed until all voluntary means of solving the problem have been exhausted.

Asking for a copy of the bill, Austin declared that "Congress is not going to wait too long for action as this is a problem that must be settled now."

Sen. Hill (D) Ala., another member of the committee, said that "it is evident from the testimony by Mr. McNutt and his aides that a complete or overall control of manpower must be established."

Hill, Democratic whip in the upper House, said he expected to ask Nelson what legislation he believes is needed and if it should not take the form of a new universal act.

"We want to get new legislation just as quickly as possible," Hill asserted. "There is no time to lose."

FURY OF BATTLE EMPHASIZED BY DESTROYER LOSS

Japs Use New Aerial Decoy Tactics, But Fail To Fool U. S. Commanders

followed, about an hour later, by 16 enemy bombers with fighter escorts. During these attacks two enemy bombers and seven "zeros" were shot down. Two U.S. fighters were lost.

Aerial strategists asserted that this apparently new tactic of using "zero" fighter planes as "bait" to draw American pursuit planes on fruitless hunts was prompted by heavy losses suffered at date by the enemy in raids on Guadalcanal.

Since fighter planes carry small gasoline supplies, it was presumed that the enemy hoped to catch the American planes grounded for refueling when the Jap bombers came over an hour later.

Success of American aerial defense tactics to date was indicated by the fact that more than 85 Jap planes have been destroyed since the present battle began October 13. The total of Jap-plane losses in the entire Solomons campaign now stands at more than 352.

But the situation in the Solomons remained critical and the outcome undecided, with large numbers of enemy ships and troops still awaiting the signal to strike in force in another attempt to oust the Americans from Guadalcanal.

"Large numbers of enemy ships continue to be sighted in the northern Solomons and small units have been located and attacked in the southern Solomons," the navy said. "There has been little recent troop activity on Guadalcanal and our aircraft are continuing to bomb the enemy positions."

This concentration of warships and auxiliaries has been bombed repeatedly by planes under the command of Gen. Douglas MacArthur in Australia and heavy damage is believed to have been done.

Some sources expressed the belief that still other Japanese fleet units, including aircraft carriers, may be lurking off Japan's mandated islands for another surprise thrust at the American positions.

ANTI LYNCHING RIDER LOOMS IF LEE PERSISTS

Author Of Prohibition Plan Said To Be Considering Compromise Measure

ing the Lee amendment, declared that high ranking officials in charge of recreation and welfare activities in the Army and Navy vigorously oppose prohibition.

"I have been informed that Raymond Fosdick, who was in charge of training camp activities during World War No. 1 says that conditions now compare favorable with conditions at that time," said La Follette. "He believes that sale of beer in post exchanges has reduced the demand for, hard liquor."

Army Has Control

"Many people do not realize that every commanding officer has power to control the situation, both within and without military reservations. He can place any locality out of bounds and soldiers can be prevented from visiting it."

"If the Lee amendment passes we will have all the evils of prohibition, with commercial bootlegging, revived."

Sen. Bilbo (D) Miss., supporting the Lee amendment, answered the assertions of the War department.

"Both the War and Navy departments have said they could clear up the conditions around camps, but they aren't doing anything," said Bilbo. "We are not seeking national prohibition but are aiming at cleanup of conditions which are extremely deleterious to the health of soldiers and sailors."

Try Me taxicab, driven by Hoston Conley, 18, of Circleville, and the auto of F. G. Moore, 128 South Brinker street, Columbus, crashed at the Watt-Pickaway street intersection at 10:45 a. m. Thursday, both cars being damaged and a Lovers' Lane woman being sent to Berger hospital.

Mrs. Hannah Moss, 68, was bruised severely. She was taken to the hospital in the Albaugh ambulance. Her injuries are not serious, the hospital reports. Mr. and Mrs. William Dewey, also of Lovers' Lane, escaped with minor bruises as did Conley.

Patrolman Alva Shasteen said Conley was driving west on Watt street while Moore was going north on Pickaway. The taxi traveled 100 feet backward after the collision.

Frequent or uneasy passages with burning and stinging sometimes show there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder. Don't neglect this condition and lose valuable, restless sleep.

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may also cause nagging headaches, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 60 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Doctors say your kidneys contain 15 miles of tiny tubes or filters which help to purify the blood and keep you healthy. That Extra Something! ...You can spot it every time

IT TAKES something extra...a plus...to make a reputation that everybody respects. Coca-Cola got its reputation for quality, because it has always been made the quality way out of quality ingredients.

Coca-Cola is an original creation with a very special something to offer, found in no other drink...a finished art in its making...a blend of wholesome flavors that creates for Coca-Cola a taste all its own. That's why Coca-Cola has the taste that charms...and never cloy.

There are many things for thirst but only one stands out for refreshment...ice-cold Coca-Cola. The only thing like Coca-Cola is Coca-Cola, itself.

War time limits the supply of Coca-Cola. Those times when you cannot get it, remember! Coke, being first choice, sells out first. Ask for it each time. No matter how short the supply, the quality of Coca-Cola carries on.

What drink do you find at the Post Exchanges? Ice-cold Coca-Cola, of course...to offer pure, wholesome, taste-good refreshment.

CARE OF TIRES STRESSED

County Superintendent Points To Suggestions Of State Directors

Degree to which school bus use is limited and suggestions being made by school authorities and transportation experts for care of vital buses were outlined Thursday by George D. McDowell, superintendent of Pickaway county schools.

Only this week superintendents of the various schools voted to abandon the annual county basketball league because of the ban on use of buses for carrying teams and pupils to the games. Schools are expected to schedule games close to home so that private cars may be used for the shorter hauls.

In addition, Superintendent McDowell declared that the administrators had already voted to abolish several other outstanding extra-curricular events which have been features of each school term in the last several years. Cancelled this year will be the music festival, the oratorical contest and the track meet. In addition to the basketball league these three events comprise the most popular events conducted in the county schools during the term. Other abandonments include recreation and baseball league and the basketball reserve league and tournament. The reserve cage schedule was cancelled before action was taken to cancel the varsity schedule.

Suggestions Listed

Kenneth C. Ray, state director of education, discussing school bus care and the war, has sent the following list of suggestions to educators and school bus operators throughout Ohio:

1. Don't drive your bus an unnecessary mile. Our government has recently ruled that school buses can be used only for transporting pupils to and from school; they cannot be used to carry pupils to athletic, musical or other extra-curricular events.

2. Never drive more than 35 miles an hour. This is another request of our government and observance of the request will save tires and gasoline and reduce accidents.

3. Be extra careful to avoid accidents of all kinds. Accidents don't just happen; they are caused.

4. Regularly inspect all parts of the bus and see that any needed repairs and adjustments are made at once.

5. Guard those precious tires. (a) Check them for proper inflation at the beginning and at the end of every trip. Never drive a flat. (b) Inspect them daily for cuts, snags, and other injuries, and have any needed repairs made at once.

(c) Secure recaps for your tires before they become so worn that they can't be re-capped. (d) Avoid sudden starts and stops, and slow down when making a curve or turn.

(e) Beware of rubbing or hitting curbs, holes, or other obstructions. (f) Remember that tires last longer when kept in a cool, dry place as much as possible. Heat, sunshine, grease and oil shorten the life of tires.

(g) Switch wheels, including spare, every four or five thousand miles. (h) Keep brakes adjusted, and see that the wheels are properly aligned.

(i) Jack up the bus during the summer months. 6. Protect that precious motor. (a) Maintain the oil in the crankcase at a correct level. See that the oil level is checked each time gasoline is secured. Do not use heavy oil in cold weather. (b) Change engine oil every two or three thousand miles under normal conditions.

(c) See that all parts of the bus are properly lubricated at the correct mileage. (d) Avoid racing the engine, and do not start until it has been properly warmed up. (e) Turn off the ignition when the bus must stand for several minutes. (f) Make certain that the radiator has the proper anti-freeze solution. (g) See that the battery is

Forty Boys in Class Training Messengers

Forty Circleville and Pickaway county boys who have enrolled for messenger service under the Circleville Civilian Defense Council program underwent their second training course Wednesday evening at the high school, an interesting program being presented.

While the number of youths taking the course is less than half needed for full training the interest of the youths appearing for instruction Tuesday and Wednesday evening pleases conductors of the program. A third meeting, which will be in the form of a surprise, will be held at a later date. J. Wray Henry, high school principal, who is specially trained in gas combat, covered the subject of gasses for the youths. He discussed the persistent and non-persistent, blister and tear gasses and told the youngsters how to distinguish them and how to combat them. Fred Watts, high school science teacher, spoke, briefly on certain gasses, and sniff tests were conducted to determine whether the boys could identify the different types of gasses.

Several other courses of instruction were provided including an observation examination, silhouette writing and safeguards for military secrets.

Two interesting movies, one concerning air raid warden's work and the other the British film, "Men of Tomorrow", showing work of the British Boy Scouts, proved highly interesting and entertaining.

The course was conducted by Earl McVey, Columbus, field executive for the Central Ohio Area Council.

The P-T. A. met at the Community hall Monday night. The new officers elected were: president, Russell Anderson; vice president, Mrs. Ruth Wolf; secretary, Mrs. Grace Delong; and treasurer, Mrs. Alma Huggins.

Entertainment for the evening consisted of songs, readings and piano solos by the school children.

Mr. and Mrs. Alva Hoffman of Clarksburg have received word that their son, Corporal Harold Hoffman, has been stationed in the Hawaiian islands. Private Samuel Cook, a brother-in-law of Corporal Hoffman, is also there.

Corporal Millard Good, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Good, has been transferred from Fort Hayes, Columbus, to Camp Atterbury, Ind. Good was assigned to the 83rd infantry division. He has been at Fort Hayes for two years, having been one of the first three Pickaway county youths to enter service after the draft became effective.

Corporal John L. Kuhn has returned to Camp Scott, Fort Wayne, Ind., after spending a two-day leave with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John O. Kuhn, of Pickaway township. He is with the 730th Engineers railway operating battalion.

Birthday greetings may be sent to Adolphus Pearce Jr., A. F. (R), Company 3 D, Battery 4, Barracks 6, U. S. C. G. training station, Governor's Island, Alameda, Cal. He will celebrate his birthday November 1.

Pickaway county auxiliary police unit will receive additional training Thursday evening when Acting Fire Chief Robert Wolf instructs the group in fire protection. The meeting will be held in Betz restaurant. The police unit is under supervision of Sheriff Charles Radcliff and his deputies.

Selective Service board received notices Thursday from the Navy recruiting station in Columbus of enlistment of W. Joe Burns of Circleville and Carl R. Reese of South Bloomfield. Both have been assigned to Great Lakes, Ill., for training.

Forty Boys in Class Training Messengers

Forty Circleville and Pickaway county boys who have enrolled for messenger service under the Circleville Civilian Defense Council program underwent their second training course Wednesday evening at the high school, an interesting program being presented.

While the number of youths taking the course is less than half needed for full training the interest of the youths appearing for instruction Tuesday and Wednesday evening pleases conductors of the program. A third meeting, which will be in the form of a surprise, will be held at a later date.

J. Wray Henry, high school principal, who is specially trained in gas combat, covered the subject of gasses for the youths. He discussed the persistent and non-persistent, blister and tear gasses and told the youngsters how to distinguish them and how to combat them. Fred Watts, high school science teacher, spoke, briefly on certain gasses, and sniff tests were conducted to determine whether the boys could identify the different types of gasses.

Several other courses of instruction were provided including an observation examination, silhouette writing and safeguards for military secrets.

Two interesting movies, one concerning air raid warden's work and the other the British film, "Men of Tomorrow", showing work of the British Boy Scouts, proved highly interesting and entertaining.

The course was conducted by Earl McVey, Columbus, field executive for the Central Ohio Area Council.

COLLEGES ASKED TO TRAIN MEN FOR WAR DUTY

Nimitz Declares Leaders Are Needed In World Geared For Strife

GENERAL CHAOS CITED

Many Officer Candidates Lacking In Necessary Higher Education

HONOLULU, Oct. 22—Admiral Chester W. Nimitz, commander in chief of the U. S. Pacific fleet, today called on the nation's colleges and universities to change their educational requirements in order to turn out leaders in a world where "war or readiness for war will form a large part of our national effort for many years to come."

In a speech delivered at the inauguration of Dr. Gregg M. Sinclair as president of the University of Hawaii, Admiral Nimitz warned that certain elective courses must be made compulsory—especially mathematics, basic sciences and American history.

"American history is a record of achievement," Admiral Nimitz stated. "Our people, through intelligent leadership, have carved out of wilderness, in less than two centuries, a great nation. To survive we must continue the development of leaders."

"Our nation was born out of revolution and warfare. Although inherently a peace-loving people, we have from the beginning been forced to engage in wars. Generally speaking, each succeeding war has increased in intensity and magnitude. The present conflict threatens to dwarf all others in scope and violence."

"And from all indications, this world chaos and its aftermath will continuously require large armed forces. All this means that despite our love of peace and efforts in that direction, war or readiness for war, will form a large part of our national effort for many years to come."

"It has been found from examination of thousands of applications for commissions in the naval reserve that many candidates lack the mathematical background to undertake courses of naval instruction."

"It appears that under the elective system of courses in effect in a number of colleges a student can graduate with a diploma, having taken few if any courses in mathematics."

The WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND
By Drew Pearson

lie power is no longer a burning national issue. Thanks to his foresight in crusading for the Tennessee Valley and Boulder Dam, the nation's power is well harnessed for victory. And the rights of labor seldom figure in the Senate debate anymore.

But Norris still remains one of the most active members of the Senate, and still finds plenty to crusade for. A bitter foe of machine politics, he led the fight against the appointment of Judge Thomas F. Meaney, of Boss Hague's New Jersey machine. Norris has also been a towering force in battles to rehabilitate little business, curb war profiteering, and promote the use of farm products in synthetic rubber production.

A dynamo of restless energy, Norris puts in 10 hours a day at the office, and colleagues on the Judiciary Committee, of which he is ranking minority member, call him "Old Faithful" because he is always first to show up for committee meetings on Monday morning.

Norris' office staff, on the other hand, call him "Mr. Elephant," because of his phenomenal memory. The Nebraskaan always speaks ex-tempro on the floor, never forgets anything he has once read. Recently he showed his secretary Jack Robertson, a newspaper feature story in which Oliver Cromwell was quoted as telling a portrait painted of his day: "Paint me as I am, warts and all."

"That's wrong," said Norris. "I remember the story from my school days. What Cromwell said was: 'Paint me as I am. If you leave out the scars and wrinkles, I will not pay you a shilling.'"

A checkup with the Library of Congress revealed that Norris had not erred by a single word.

NOTE: Norris is the "dean" of Congress, has served 40 straight years in the House and Senate. Next comes 84-year-old Senator Carter Glass of Virginia who entered the House at about the same time, but was out of Congress two years as a member of the Wilson cabinet. Along with them is 78-year-old Senator "Cotton Ed" Smith of South Carolina, who has served 33 years in the Senate alone. Senator Glass has been ill most of the fall, but is now recovering, and will not resign. Virginia will keep him in the Senate as long as he wants to stay.

INTERESTING SHIP DEALS

Thrifty Senator George Aiken of Vermont is indignant over the way the Maritime Commission has sold ships to private interests, then turned round and bought them back again—with a profit, not to the government, but to private interests.

Because of this, Senator Aiken appeared at a secret session of the Senate Naval Affairs Committee and opposed the promotion of Rear Admiral Emory S. Land, chairman of the Maritime Commission, to be a vice admiral.

What disturbs the economy-minded Vermont Senator is that the Maritime Commission on June 8, 1940, sold five merchant ships to the Waterman Steamship Co. of Mobile for $596,000 or $13.75 per deadweight ton.

Then in late 1941, although the Maritime Commission had an option to repurchase the ships, it did not exercise it, but purchased instead five other older vessels from the Waterman Co. for $3,374,700—or an average of $75 per deadweight ton. This, according to General Accounting Office probers, was $1,995,502 more than should have been paid under the option.

Senator Aiken has also discovered that the Boston Iron and Metal Co. of Baltimore bought the Coast Guard Cutter Seneca from the Treasury in 1936 for $6,605.

Then in January, 1941, the Maritime Commission bought the Seneca back from the Boston Iron and Metal Co. for $45,000.

Senator Aiken is anxious to see what has gone on behind the scenes to put across these ship-

SEARCH CONTINUES FOR FUGITIVES FROM B.I.S.

Boys' Industrial school and local authorities are continuing to search for two youths who escaped in Circleville early Wednesday after they were accosted by Patrolman Elmer Merriman. Merriman arrested George Rexroads, 15, of Wilmington, and George DuBarry, 17, of Columbus, and Eugene Zimmer, 17, Cleveland, escaped while the patrolman was talking with Rexroads.

RED AND BLACK GRID OPPONENT READY FOR FRAY

Captain Walker To Be At Guard Spot; Wilmington Injuries Healing

BAUGH MAY BE USED

Coach Black Still Uncertain About Lineup For Game Friday Night

Wilmington's Hurricane, improving steadily in the last three games, will likely be at full strength Friday evening when it invades Circleville high school's athletic field.

Captain John Walker, a brilliant guard, has recovered completely from a leg injury, and will be in the starting lineup. Joe Baugh, star halfback, was unable to practice Monday evening, but is expected to be ready for the contest. Baugh has an ouchy ankle.

Coach Roy McKinley of Wilmington is hopeful of upsetting the Red and Black apple cart. His team is pointing toward the Tiger goal line, hoping to be the first foe to cross it this year.

On the other hand, Coach Roy Black's boys are doing a little drilling on their own behalf. Tuesday's drill was cut short because of a dust storm, and Wednesday's was abbreviated because of heavy rain. Thursday afternoon's workout is expected to be a snappy one with no contact planned so that bumps and bruises will be evaded.

Just how the Red and Black will start is not yet certain. Coach Black would like to have Dud Smallwood at fullback with Tom Shea at left half, but he would also like to have Smallwood at tackle. Since he can't play both posts at the same time, the Tiger mentor will have to make a decision on his starting spot. The entire squad is in pretty good condition.

Fathers of all the players will be honored with special seats inside the field fence. Each dad will be designated with a number corresponding with the one his son wears being put on the back of his coat. Stooze club is in charge of arrangements for this feature.

The game starts at 8 o'clock.

Wildcats to Use Three Sophs Against Ohioans

EVANSTON, Ill., Oct. 22—Three shots of sophomore blood were injected into the Northwestern lineup today to bolster the Wildcats' scoring punch for Saturday's tussle with Ohio State at Evanston. The new shift found Sophomores George App at center, Nick Vordick at right half and Lynne McNutt at quarterback.

COLUMBUS — Ohio State's Buckeyes had a last look at Northwestern's plays, particularly Otto Graham's passing, and a review of their own formations today. The Buckeyes will leave tonight for Evanston where a brief workout was scheduled for tomorrow.

CHAMPAIGN, Ill.—Coach Ray Eliot indicated today that the same starting lineup as against Iowa would be used Saturday when Illinois meets Notre Dame in a dad's day battle at Champaign. The Illini went through a long drill on Irish plays with Dick Good alternating with Don Griffin at left half.

MADISON, Wis.—The Wisconsin Badgers' practice will be cut short today to catch an early train for Lafayette to meet Purdue Saturday. A squad of 30 Badgers will make the trip.

HALAS, CHIEF OF BEARS, READY TO RETURN TO NAVY

CHICAGO, Oct. 22—The Chicago Bears, who have bowled over all football competition in their last 17 starts, suffered a severe blow today with the announcement that George S. Halas, owner-coach of the champions, has applied for enlistment in the aviation branch of the Navy.

Halas, who is awaiting orders from Washington on where and when he will report for duty, said he did not expect to serve with any of the service's athletic units. He is expected to be commissioned a lieutenant commander.

When the Bears take to Wrigley field against the Philadelphia Eagles Sunday, it probably will be Halas' last appearance with the champions for the duration.

Halas, foremost exponent of the famous T formation whose name has been synonymous with the development of professional football into a big time sport, said he would not name his successor as coach of the Bears until he receives his marching orders.

Now 47 years old, Halas returns to the Navy which he served during World War 1 while playing football with the Great Lakes naval training station squad after his graduation from the University of Illinois in 1918.

game, Notre Dame worked hard on new plays today for the Illinois encounter. Three stars, Dippy Evans, Wally Ziemba and Jim Mello, are definitely benched for Saturday's game.

BLOOMINGTON, Ind.—The Indiana Hoosiers today developed new formations designed to ground Tom Farmer's passes and stop Dick Hoerner's rushes in Saturday's homecoming game against the Iowa Hawkeyes. Paul Walker is expected to replace either Left Tackle Bob Zimny or Left End Ted Hasapes, who are injured.

IOWA CITY, Ia.—Fearful of Indiana's varied attack, Coach Eddie Anderson today gave the Iowa Hawkeyes special sessions on the plays to expect at Bloomington Saturday. Emphasis was placed on Bill Hillenbrand's passes. Sophomore Bill Harbour was groomed to replace the ailing Bill Burkett, who, however, is expected to start at right end for the Hawks.

MINNEAPOLIS—A battle of linemen on Saturday was anticipated today as the Minnesota Gophers placed their hopes on their forward wall to score an upset victory over Michigan in the annual Little Brown Jug battle. Records show that the Wolverines have scored only once through a line coached by George Hauser, who also was line coach under Bernie Bierman.

ANN ARBOR, Mich.—Hopes were high on the Michigan campus today that the Wolverines would come home from Minneapolis with their 19th victory over Minnesota in their 33rd meeting. Since their rivalry began in 1892 Michigan has won 18, to 12 for the Gophers, two games ending in ties.

LAFAYETTE, Ind.—John Ardretch, hard-driving halfback, had the responsibility today for piloting Purdue against undefeated Wisconsin in Saturday's homecoming battle. Ardretch also is an effective passer, having completed seven of 12 attempts. The Boilermakers continued to work on fundamentals in preparation for the game.

CHICAGO, Oct. 22 — Out of the sea of anonymity which traditionally engulfs assistant football coaches, Ed McKeever, of Notre Dame, emerged today as coach of the week, embryo coach of the year or claimant to any similar title that strikes one's fancy.

"Who is McKeever?" was the cry which went up in football circles after Notre Dame smashed Lt. Col. Bernie Bierman's great Iowa Seahawks eleven, 28 to 0, at South Bend last Saturday.

team in place of his boss, Frank Leahy.

Football fans, Notre Dame graduates and the school's horde of synthetic alumni promptly subjected McKeever to a what-manner-of-man-is-this scrutiny. They scented drama — the pupil filling the shoes of the master, the bereft team carrying on.

And drama was there. Not the kind that makes for rivalry between the assistant and his superior, but the drama of the quiet, unassuming man to whom due recognition comes at last.

McKeever, a native of San Antonio, Tex., won a freshman football numeral at Notre Dame in 1930—the year Leahy was there as a senior. He left South Bend in 1931 and starred at Texas Tech in 1932, 1933 and 1934, becoming Tech backfield coach after graduation and holding the job to 1938.

He was instructing in backfield play at the Lubbock, Tex., coaching school in 1938 when he met Leahy, who was teaching the fine points involved in line work. McKeever's personality and knowledge made a profound impression on Leahy, then as assistant at Fordham. "I told Ed,"

Leahy later recalled, "that if I ever became a head coach, he'd get an offer to become my backfield coach."

Leahy kept that promise when he went to Boston College as head man in 1939 and the two have been together ever since. McKeever turned down an offer from Boston College to stay on as head coach there to accompany Leahy to South Bend in 1941.

Captain Walker To Be At Guard Spot; Wilmington Injuries Healing

BAUGH MAY BE USED

Coach Black Still Uncertain About Lineup For Game Friday Night

Wilmington's Hurricane, improving steadily in the last three games, will likely be at full strength Friday evening when it invades Circleville high school's athletic field.

Captain John Walker, a brilliant guard, has recovered completely from a leg injury, and will be in the starting lineup. Joe Baugh, star halfback, was unable to practice Monday evening, but is expected to be ready for the contest. Baugh has an ouchy ankle.

Coach Roy McKinley of Wilmington is hopeful of upsetting the Red and Black apple cart. His team is pointing toward the Tiger goal line, hoping to be the first foe to cross it this year.

On the other hand, Coach Roy Black's boys are doing a little drilling on their own behalf. Tuesday's drill was cut short because of a dust storm, and Wednesday's was abbreviated because of heavy rain. Thursday afternoon's workout is expected to be a snappy one with no contact planned so that bumps and bruises will be avoided.

Just how the Red and Black will start is not yet certain. Coach Black would like to have Dud Smallwood at fullback with Tom Shea at left half, but he would also like to have Smallwood at tackle. Since he can't play both posts at the same time, the Tiger mentor will have to make a decision on his starting spot. The entire squad is in pretty good condition.

Fathers of all the players will be honored with special seats inside the field fence. Each dad will be designated with a number corresponding with the one his son wears being put on the back of his coat. Stogie club is in charge of arrangements for this feature.

The game starts at 8 o'clock.

TOLES WHIPS GODOY
RIO DE JANEIRO, Oct. 22 — Roscoe Toles, Negro heavyweight to Detroit, today held a decision over Arturo Godoy of Chile. Toles got the referee's nod in a 12-round fight last night at the Fluminense stadium.

AMERICANS IN AFRICA
"DARKEST AFRICA" is now lighting up. Americans have a good deal to do with the process, and will have more. Perhaps much more. Large sections of that vast continent may seem pretty well Americanized by another year or two.
American troops have been in Egypt for some time, fighting alongside of the British and Free French to keep North Africa safe from absorption by the Axis. But their activity until recently has been confined to the northeastern corner. Libya and Algeria must both be taken over by the United Nations before the Mediterranean is safe for democracy and navigation. That job will soon be resumed.
Meanwhile there are reports of considerable Axis activity in and around Dakar, a strategic French seaport on the West African coast. It is surprisingly near South America, and American forces will probably have to occupy it before long. No doubt American strategists have their minds on that job, and a tough job it will be. Down the coast a few hundred miles from Dakar are the British colony of Sierra Leone and the Negro Republic of Liberia, where there are 10,000,000 American-owned rubber trees.
From that region American air carriers shuttle across the vast continent northwestward to Egypt and the Near East. Big events may occur in those parts before long.

DAILY MAIL
WITH THE shrinkage of man-power and consequent reduction of many kinds of service, it was inevitable that the mails would be affected. Many postal districts have lost one-tenth or more of their experienced employees. It takes time to replace them and train the new people, and in many cases replacements may not be made. The mail trains, too, are greatly handicapped by heavy war traffic.
So announcement is made in various cities that after the Christmas holidays, with their inevitable rush, there will only be one mail delivery instead of two or more. It will be inconvenient, but necessary, and in most cases will probably not cause much real hardship. As similar difficulties of service occur on many civilian fronts, people may conclude that they're very lucky to get mail as much as once a day.

HUMAN DIGNITY
HERBERT AGAR, historian and former editor of the Louisville Courier-Journal, now lieutenant-commander in the navy, has a true word when he says: "If the American idea prevails, the future will offer man some dignity and some chance for self-improvement. If the American Hauled from sleep by the roar of great explosions and did say promptly, "Well, it's finally come. Lockbourne is being bombed. Not a pleasant experience, or an impossible one, either.

Joe is one of the best watch makers in these parts and his long training will make him a valuable man in repair of delicate instruments of warfare. Joe is married and would not have been subject to the draft for a long time, if at all, but he felt he should do something for his country, so he enlisted. Always was proud to claim him among my friends and now I am prouder than ever.
Bob Shadley passed the front window wearing a big grin. Not long afterward he was aboard a bus headed for army service, leaving behind a wife and daughter. "Somebody has to do the fighting," he told me recently, "and I might just as well be doing it as the next fellow." He'll make a good soldier.
Kids of this ville have the strangest ideas about Halloween. Start their celebration ten days early every year, and this is no exception. Every night is "Beggars' Night" to them. A constant ringing of the doorbell, and constant refusals. I just do not believe in encouraging kids in begging of any kind. We have had too much of that kind of stuff in recent years.
Dropped in at a restaurant for lunch and soon learned that no coffee was to be had. "And just look here," said the proprietor, pointing to a 100 pound bag of sugar. "That stuff is rationed and I get all I need. Coffee is not rationed and I get none. It's all beyond me." Me, too.
Did you read that story about Gerald L. K. Smith, the unsuccessful senate nomination candidate in Michigan, who announced that he will drive his car as far and as fast as he pleases despite government orders to the contrary. And to think that such men are encouraged in seeking places in our legislative halls. The rest of us who provide the cash and the fighting men for war will obey the go-slow order even though we may not be certain it is absolutely necessary. Any good citizen should be willing to slow down if by doing so he can speed up the advance on Tokio and Berlin. We will continue believing our leaders until such time as they fail to merit our confidence and then we will get rid of them. And in the meantime I hope Smith moves to Ohio and runs for office so I can vote against him.
Again the only news of the day regarding American army and navy activity in the war comes from London. Nothing about our own men from Washington. This has been frequently true in recent weeks. It is our personal fight in the Pacific, our own men doing the fighting, our money footing the bills. But the news belongs to London. Wonder what's the reason?

The WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND
By DREW PEARSON
QUICK ACTION ON DRAFT
WASHINGTON — If the President and the country want to get a full realization of how democracy is streamlining for action they should think back to the Summer of 1941, just one year ago, when, for what seemed like unending weeks, the Congress stewed over extension of the Selective Service Act.
Senate and House isolationists were haranguing the galleries on the inequities of keeping the boys more than one year in camp; telling the public how the Navy was already conveying ships; revealing in advance that Roosevelt had sent troops to Iceland.
Finally by the thin margin of one vote, 203 to 202, and thanks to the sage generalship of Speaker Sam Rayburn, the Selective Service Act was extended. Had it not been for that narrow victory, we should have had no army to rush to Australia, and the whole war effort would have received a tragic set-back.
But last week, a war-gear'd House of Representatives passed the 18-19 year draft extension act in three days; and it should be passed by the Senate and signed by the President inside the week.
Politically and personally, nobody wanted the 18-19 year draft extension. It was the worst time to pass it, just before elections. But Congress is doing a much better job than most people realize for streamlined democracy.

ATROCITY PICTURES
A strong debate is raging among propaganda chiefs over the question of atrocity stories and pictures. The Government has received a lot of such material from Allied sources, especially the Chinese and Poles, including such horrible scenes as Japanese attacking Chinese women, and pouring oil on live bodies before setting the torch to them.
Opponents of publication argue that the atrocity stories of the last war were largely invented, and when so exposed left the public disillusioned; thus the people might now react unfavorably and charge the Government with pulling the same tricks.
Other officials argue, however, that the material is authentic, that it is not posters and rumors, but actual photographs, and the public should know what sort of enemies we are fighting.
It is apparently a part of the German psychological warfare to treat British and Americans with reasonable humaneness in order to keep us lulled in a state of moderate warfare. They save their worst tricks for the conquered nations and the Russians.
The Poles and Chinese are urging use of the material as a necessary means of fully arousing the American public to the menace.
Elmer Davis's Office of War Information is set to go, once the debate is settled.

NORRIS OF NEBRASKA
Despite his 81 Winters, it is interesting to note how little change has come over the grand old man of the Senate, George Norris of Nebraska.
The war has narrowed his range. Publication is presently extinguished, the future will be dark for uncountable years."

Index of Height and Weight
There is an index of height to weight that is theoretically 1.00. When a person is 1.15 (for a male), or 1.11 (female), they are considered pathologically overweight. This subject was 5 feet 5 1/2 inches high, so her index was 2.41, which means her girth, etc., was 2.41 greater than that of a medium-sized average woman.
When she was 10 years old she tipped the scales at 300 pounds. She was said to weigh 16 pounds at birth, which is enormous. At one year she weighed 50 pounds, which is double the weight of the average child of that year. Her mother was a professional fat lady who weighed 720 pounds (though she was over 6 feet tall), and her father weighed 250 pounds.
Her daily life was necessarily entirely different from that of an average person's. She naturally did not get around much because she had to carry nearly half a ton of weight everywhere she went. When she walked she had to stop every little while and rest, and she climbed upstairs once or twice a day, but it was quite an effort.
She ate about one and a half times as much as an ordinary per-

SCIENTIFIC studies of abnormal human beings are few and far between. Few careful life histories of giants, dwarfs, thin people and fat people are recorded.
Dr. Clendening will answer questions of general interest only, and then only through his column.
Therefore I find the account of David Willoughby of his studies of probably the fattest woman who ever lived of particular interest and value.
There are a few records of men who came near to 1,000 pounds. David Maguire, of Kenosha, Wisconsin, weighed 800 pounds, and the famous Miles Darden, of North Carolina, weighed over 1,000 pounds, but he died in 1857 when not so much was known about the science of endocrinology and metabolism and no careful study was ever conducted of his daily life.
Mrs. Gertrude Karns, of Shreveport, Iowa, weighed 745 pounds at the age of 28 in 1936, and Rose Nanez was reported to weigh 756 pounds at the age of 23 in 1936. Mr. Willoughby's subject weighed 72 1/2 pounds just before her death in 1939. Perhaps not more than five people who ever lived surpassed her in weight.

Malaria is an extremely difficult disease to eradicate completely and recurrences may come on many years after everything has been quiet. Change of climate is likely to cause a recurrence. I remember an ex-Rough Rider who acquired malaria in Cuba, 15 years after the Spanish-American war, landing at a New England seaside resort just as a cold spell hit; he sat down and had the finest malarial chill you could ever wish to see. Quinine and also atabrine should be used in repeated courses at least once a year on the chronic cases.

The pamphlets are: "Three Weeks' Reducing Diet", "Indigestion and Constipation", "Reducing and Gaining", "Infant Feeding", "Instructions for the Treatment of Diabetes", "Feminine Hygiene" and "The Care of the Hair and Skin".

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS
Mrs. J. S.:—My husband, while serving in the Navy in Panama, had a bad case of malaria. Ever since then he has attacks of "that malaria feeling," and his complexion takes on a grayish tinge and he has cold sores on his lips. Does malaria cause anemia? Should quinine be taken over a period of years? Does a person ever get over malaria?

There can't be any shortage of rubber in Russia, judging by the manner in which the Red army keeps bouncing back.
By this time even Il Duce must have come to the conclusion that historians of the future will not refer to the present conflict as "Mr. Mussolini's war."
The fact that he never rose higher than the rank of corporal during his army career may explain why Hitler gets so much solid comfort in kicking his field marshals around.

Road to Romance
By LOIS EBY and JOHN C. FLEMING
SYNOPSIS
Following her mother's death, red-haired, slim MARY DEXTER leaves Omaha to take a job in the Nordex Aircraft plant in California. She shares an apartment with FRAN BOND, night club singer and dancer. Friendship develops between Mary and KEN GRANT, young mechanical engineer, also newly employed at Nordex. Mary has been attracted to BRUCE MARTIN, Nordex test pilot, over whom a dark cloud seems to hover.
YESTERDAY: An explosion rocks the Nordex aircraft plant!
CHAPTER EIGHTEEN
SCARCELY had the last horrible sound of the explosion died away when the shrill warning buzzer began. Every Nordex worker knew what it meant. Thousands ran for shelter.
"Under your desks!" cried Connie to the personnel department.
Mary found herself frozen in front of her desk, still reaching for her purse. She dropped to her knees and crawled under the desk. Only then did she realize she had been screaming. Her throat was aching. She was trembling all over. Time seemed to stand still. . . . To wait for another rending, ear-splitting roar.
But none came. The building had not fallen in. Mary realized as she peeked out from her desk. Another girl across the aisle was peeking from her desk at the same instant. She saw Mary and broke into giggles. "If my friends could only see me now!" she cried.
Mary smiled and took a deeper breath. She looked out further to see what Connie was doing. Connie was at the door, tussling with a hysterical girl who was determined to bolt.
"No one leaves the building until the second buzzer," Connie was shouting at her.
Mary leaped to her feet and went to the rescue. Between them she and Connie succeeded in getting the girl back to her desk. "Thanks, Mary," Connie gave Mary a long, satisfied glance. Mary knew it was silent praise, that she had gotten control of herself again, returned to her old co-operative spirit.
A messenger brought a communication to Connie. She read it and announced with relief. "Return to your work. There's no danger."
"What was it?" cried the girl, slowly recovering from her hysterics.
"I said, 'Go back to your work,'" repeated Connie firmly. She glared at the girl. "You will be told in due time."
Ken was waiting for Mary at the lunchroom door. She smiled at him weakly.
"You look a little dazed," Ken grinned back.
"Did you come to say I told you so?" she teased him.
"I did not," said Ken. "I came to see if you were able to sit up and take nourishment."
The lunchroom was buzzing with excitement. The shock over the workers were swinging back to healthy humor.
"I told you if you kept playing with that hammer, you'd hit your thumb!" one machinist yelled across the room to his buddy.
"Gimme two helpings of stew. That explosion blew the bottom out of my stomach!"
Beneath the fun and raillery, questions, suspicions, suppositions made up the excited conversation.
Mary asked Ken if he knew what had caused it.
"I think it was in the chemical laboratory," he said.
"Sabotage?"
He shrugged. "I haven't the faintest idea. Not necessarily."
"But you think it was?"
"It doesn't do much good to think now," said Ken soberly. "This one's over, but we can keep our eyes and ears open to try and head off the next."
"But how?" cried Mary.
"I haven't the faintest idea," Ken repeated maddeningly.
After lunch they strolled through the darkness to the building that housed the chemical laboratory. The fire engines were still there, but the danger was over. The firemen were climbing back on the trucks to leave. At the door an ambulance had been backed up, waiting. As they approached it, two white-clad attendants hurried between them. On the stretcher Mary could see a drugged and bandaged man. She held onto Ken's arm tightly, feeling a wave of weakness pass over her. But she watched till the doctor had followed the stretcher into the ambulance, the door had been closed and the car moved off, siren shrilling, into the night.
"An awful lot of people were lucky—this time," she whispered.
The following morning, Mary realized a new, and stricter regime, had begun. As she came in through the gate, the line was moving much more slowly than usual. She saw why when it came her turn to show her badge. The policeman asked to see her purse also. He made a thorough search of it.
"Lunch box?" he asked.
"No," Mary said.
Beside her, another worker's lunch box had been opened and was being examined. Then his thermos bottle was unscrewed.
"It's just coffee," protested the man. "With one lump of sugar only." He winked at Mary. The po-

QUICK ACTION ON DRAFT
WASHINGTON — If the President and the country want to get a full realization of how democracy is streamlining for action they should think back to the Summer of 1941, just one year ago, when, for what seemed like unending weeks, the Congress stewed over extension of the Selective Service Act.

Senate and House isolationists were haranguing the galleries on the inequities of keeping the boys more than one year in camp; telling the public how the Navy was already convoying ships; revealing in advance that Roosevelt had sent troops to Iceland.

Finally by the thin margin of one vote, 203 to 202, and thanks to the sage generalship of Speaker Sam Rayburn, the Selective Service Act was extended. Had it not been for that narrow victory, we should have had no army to rush to Australia, and the whole war effort would have received a tragic set-back.

But last week, a war-gear House of Representatives passed the 18-19 year draft extension act in three days; and it should be passed by the Senate and signed by the President inside the week.

Politically and personally, nobody wanted the 18-19 year draft extension. It was the worst time to pass it, just before elections. But Congress is doing a much better job than most people realize for streamlined democracy.

ATROCITY PICTURES
A strong debate is raging among propaganda chiefs over the question of atrocity stories and pictures. The Government has received a lot of such material from Allied sources, especially the Chinese and Poles, including such horrible scenes as Japanese attacking Chinese women, and pouring oil on live bodies before setting the torch to them.

Opponents of publication argue that the atrocity stories of the last war were largely invented, and when so exposed left the public disillusioned; thus the people might now react unfavorably and charge the Government with pulling the same tricks.

Other officials argue, however, that the material is authentic, that it is not posters and rumors, but actual photographs, and the public should know what sort of enemies we are fighting.
It is apparently a part of the German psychological warfare to treat British and Americans with reasonable humaneness in order to keep us lulled in a state of moderate warfare. They save their worst tricks for the conquered nations and the Russians.

The Poles and Chinese are urging use of the material as a necessary means of fully arousing the American public to the menace.

Elmer Davis's Office of War Information is set to go, once the debate is settled.

NORRIS OF NEBRASKA
Despite his 81 Winters, it is interesting to note how little change has come over the grand old man of the Senate, George Norris of Nebraska.

Index of Height and Weight
There is an index of height to weight that is theoretically 1.00. When a person is 1.15 (for a male), or 1.11 (female), they are considered pathologically overweight. This subject was 5 feet 5 1/2 inches high, so her index was 2.41, which means her girth, etc., was 2.41 greater than that of a medium-sized average woman.

When she was 10 years old she tipped the scales at 300 pounds. She was said to weigh 16 pounds at birth, which is enormous. At one year she weighed 50 pounds, which is double the weight of the average child of that year. Her mother was a professional fat lady who weighed 720 pounds (though she was over 6 feet tall), and her father weighed 250 pounds.

Her daily life was necessarily entirely different from that of an average person's. She naturally did not get around much because she had to carry nearly half a ton of weight everywhere she went. When she walked she had to stop every little while and rest, and she climbed upstairs once or twice a day, but it was quite an effort. She ate about one and a half times as much as an ordinary per-

SYNOPSIS
Following her mother's death, red-haired, slim MARY DEXTER leaves Omaha to take a job in the Nordex Aircraft plant in California. She shares an apartment with FRANK BOND, night club singer and dancer. Friendship develops between Mary and KEN GRANT, young mechanical engineer, also newly employed at Nordex. Mary has been attracted to BRUCE MARTIN, Nordex test pilot, over whom a dark cloud seems to hover.
YESTERDAY: An explosion rocks the Nordex aircraft plant!

CHAPTER EIGHTEEN
SCARCELY had the last horrible sound of the explosion died away when the shrill warning buzzer began. Every Nordex worker knew what it meant. Thousands ran for shelter.
"Under your desks!" cried Connie to the personnel department.
Mary found herself frozen in front of her desk, still reaching for her purse. She dropped to her knees and crawled under the desk. Only then did she realize she had been screaming. Her throat was aching. She was trembling all over. Time seemed to stand still. . . . to wait for another rending, ear-splitting roar.

But none came. The building had not fallen in. Mary realized she peeked out from her desk. Another girl across the aisle was peeking from her desk at the same instant. She saw Mary and broke into giggles. "If my friends could only see me right now," she cried.
Mary smiled and took a deeper breath. She looked out further to see what Connie was doing. Connie was at the door, tussling with a hysterical girl who was determined to bolt.

"No one leaves the building until the second buzzer," Connie was shouting at her.
Mary leaped to her feet and went to the rescue. Between them she and Connie succeeded in getting the girl back to her desk. "Thanks, Mary," Connie gave Mary a long, satisfied glance. Mary knew it was silent praise, that she had gotten control of herself again, returned to her old co-operative spirit.
A messenger brought a communication to Connie. She read it and announced with relief, "Return to your work. There's no danger."
"What was it?" cried the girl, slowly recovering from her hysterics.
"I said, 'Go back to your work,'" repeated Connie firmly. She glared at the girl. "You will be told in due time."

Ken was waiting for Mary at the lunchroom door. She smiled at him weakly.

Guard Against These Little Yellow Men

In The Burners Of Your Gas Range

You may not realize it but "enemy saboteurs" of waste and inefficiency may be lurking in the burners of your gas range—in other gas appliances too. You see, in our country's all-out conservation program, anything that tends to waste a vital natural resource is giving aid to the enemy. Unlike some saboteurs, these can be easily recognized by the yellowish appearance of the flame, by the imperfections of its shape, and by the telltale smoke marks on the bottom of your cooking utensils. If you detect these evidences of inefficiency in any of the burners of your gas appliances, these burners are out of adjustment. Below is a simplified explanation of how a properly adjusted gas flame should look and how to make the adjustment on your gas range. In most cases you can make this adjustment yourself, thereby furthering the war effort still more by eliminating the necessity of a service call.

HOW A GAS FLAME SHOULD LOOK

HOW TO ADJUST A RANGE BURNER

If the flame from your range burner does not appear as described and illustrated here, if it burns a lazy yellow or with a noisy sputtering sound, it is probably because of improper air mixture in the burner. The air shutter (see illustration) should then be adjusted by loosening the air shutter screw and moving the shutter until the desired blue cone flame is obtained. When the air shutter screw is properly set, tighten the shutter screw again so that it is held securely.

ASHVILLE

And yesterday morning in walked Marcellus White fresh from camp down in Alabama and here for a few days. Looking fine, having gained several pounds in weight. Several of our boys left here yesterday morning as inductees. It's war and even more than Sherman said it was.

With the completion of the pumpkin pack yesterday forenoon, after a couple weeks operation, closed the canning season for the year. With the several field products finding their way into the containers at the factory, no canning season has exceeded this one for both quantity and quality. The methods employed in harvesting and processing the canning crops at the start of the local plant some forty years ago, were very different, when the sweet corn crop was hand husked and the cans closed by solder stick and red hot iron, the tools manipulated by individual workers. In those back there days the plant was owned and operated by the late Festus Walters. Wayne Caldwell and the present Circleville resident, "Hack" Stevenson, who knew Ashville when but a couple of dwellings were here.

V. H. Prushing is Ashville west voting precinct committee-man, succeeding Guy Cline now in the war service. . . Both congressman Claypool and Forrest Short, county auditor, were here yesterday learning if possible, what the political situation is in these parts. Political talk is much a scarce article here, the war boys with accompanying activities getting super attention. It will be recalled that at the August primary election, the West precinct here, polled but 44 votes, with the normal number at the near 300. And this condition largely existed all over the county and how much better "turn out" there'll be on November 3, your guess is good as anybody's. There was a report here yesterday evening that the Harrison voting place is to be changed from Gray Station to Duval but the county election board knew nothing of the change, so we'll brand it as just another article which, in the old day, mixed with bacon rinds, made fine soap.

MODELS BEST

The old idea about beauty and brains not mixing underwent a thorough debunking Saturday night, when a team of Powers models competed with a group of naval aviation cadets on the Frank Crumit-Julia Sanderson "Mr. Adam and Mrs. Eve" quiz show. Top prize went to Frances Donelon, whose likeness has appeared on the cover of practically every magazine in the country.

Guard Against These Little Yellow Men In The Burners Of Your Gas Range

You may not realize it but "enemy saboteurs" of waste and inefficiency may be lurking in the burners of your gas range—in other gas appliances too. You see, in our country's all-out conservation program, anything that tends to waste a vital natural resource is giving aid to the enemy. Unlike some saboteurs, these can be easily recognized by the yellowish appearance of the flame, by the imperfections of its shape, and by the telltale smoke marks on the bottom of your cooking utensils. If you detect these evidences of inefficiency in any of the burners of your gas appliances, these burners are out of adjustment. Below is a simplified explanation of how a properly adjusted gas flame should look and how to make the adjustment on your gas range. In most cases you can make this adjustment yourself, thereby furthering the war effort still more by eliminating the necessity of a service call.

HOW A GAS FLAME SHOULD LOOK

OLD STYLE BURNER NEW STYLE BURNER

HOW TO ADJUST A RANGE BURNER

If the flame from your range burner does not appear as described and illustrated here, if it burns a lazy yellow or with a noisy sputtering sound, it is probably because of improper air mixture in the burner. The air shutter (see illustration) should then be adjusted by loosening the air shutter screw and moving the shutter until the desired blue cone flame is obtained. When the air shutter screw is properly set, tighten the shutter screw again so that it is held securely.

SPECIAL PARKING HIT

Crites Report On Inquiry In Lancaster Shows No Business Concessions

Circleville council engaged in an ordinance-passing session Wednesday evening with four new matters being proposed and all being approved under suspension of rules without a dissenting vote. Councilman-at-Large Frank A. Lynch presided in absence of President John C. Goeller. Councilman George L. Crites was also absent.

Measures approved included: 1. An ordinance permitting the Norfolk & Western railroad to remove almost one mile of steel boiler tubing used as a protection along the right-of-way from Water street to Ohio street. The tubing will be sold to the Wheeling Steel corporation as scrap under a contract which the railroad holds. Attorney A. D. Lynn of the firm Bannon, Bannon, Lynn & Howland appeared at council session and urged immediate action because of need for the metal. He declared that the guard rail provided by boiler tubing is no longer needed, that it was originally placed there to prevent cattle straying onto the tracks. He did not estimate the number of tons of scrap available.

Insurance Paid
2. An ordinance appropriating $1,265 for payment of insurance policies on city buildings, including City Hall, Memorial Hall, engine house, city cottage, Berger hospital, city garage and other buildings. The insurance which will be of complete coverage type will be with four local firms.

3. An ordinance giving Public Library trustees permission to dispose of the county bookmobile truck for $950, an offer already having been received of this amount. The bookmobile is not in use now because of fund shortage. It will not be replaced until after the war.

4. An ordinance providing $90 to pay salary due collector of sewage disposal plant rental fees.

Crossing Improvement
Council was informed by Mr. Lynn and by A. V. Osborn, Circleville agent for the N. & W. that R. J. Royer, roadmaster for the railroad in this area, had surveyed the Clinton street crossing and that he had agreed to construct a side walk across the railroad at that point. There is no walk leading to the crossing with which the railroad's walk may connect, but Mr. Royer has decided to adhere to the request voiced by council that added protection be provided for school children and others at the crossing.

Permission was granted to leaders of the 4-H club-vocational agriculture show to block East Franklin street from Court street to the first alley east of the Hill Implement company. The 4-H-Vo-Ag show will be conducted Friday and Saturday, but the street will be closed Thursday so tents and other equipment necessary may be placed in the street.

Safety Director E. W. Weiler informed council that the Berger hospital sterilizer can no longer be used. The hospital committee headed by W. E. Wallace was authorized to act with the safety director in seeking to replace to one which has been in use.

Councilman J. D. Mason told council that residents of Park street are requesting construction of a sanitary sewer and Councilman Boyd Horn said that residents of Second avenue are asking that a storm sewer be constructed in their end of the city.

Councilman George L. Crites, who was out of town and unable to attend, asked Councilman Mason to report that he had investigated concerning special parking permits being sold in the uptown district in Lancaster, and that he had learned that no business houses or hotels are granted special rights for loading in front of their stores. Parking meters are being operated throughout the entire business area there he reported.

Financial report of the city was read by Mr. Wallace as prepared by Miss Lillian Young, city auditor. The report was in detail as asked by council at its last meeting and included the following figures: balances as of October 21: general, $1,860.98; library, $1,982.68; sewage disposal, $7,161.31; auto street repair, $7,385.84; gasoline tax, $5,811.83; and hospital, a deficit of $29.17, leaving $24,123.47 in all funds. A distribution of $19,779.11 was received Wednesday from the county auditor, $15,251.85 going to the general fund, $3,886.65 in the bond retirement fund and $639.61 in the sewage disposal fund. Unpaid hospital bills of $522.50 are standing, Miss Young reported. She estimates income the remainder of the year at $5,432.49 with estimated expenditures to be $8,000.

TWO CONVICTED HERE ELIGIBLE FOR PAROLES
Two persons convicted in Pickaway county courts, one a man and one a woman, will be eligible for parole hearings December 1 at Ohio penitentiary and Ohio reformatory for women, respectively.

They are Kenneth Kneese of near Circleville who is serving the sixth year of a 10 to 25 year term for armed robbery, and Mrs. June Duty of Ironton, who was convicted December 10, 1941, for cutting with intent to wound. She slashed a man with whom she was riding in an automobile as the vehicle passed through Pickaway county.
